DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: In the specifications the applicant refers to convergent end 105 to be placed in the mouth of the patient as well as being connected to the aerosol medicament reservoir see page 4 of the specifications.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 2 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim(s) in independent form. In the independent claim 1, the applicant states that the chamber is made of polyamide whereas in dependent claim 2 the applicant states that the chamber is made of an antistatic plastic material.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 10 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by O'Callaghan Patent No. WO 93/11817. Referring to claims 10, O'Callaghan discloses improvements in the administration of aerosol compounds that does provide a non-metallic antistatic space device for the inhalation of a particulate medicament in a volatile medium (see page 4).

Referring to claim 11, O'Callaghan discloses an apparatus wherein there is substantially little or no deposit of medicament on the inside of the device (see page 4).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 2, 5, 6, 8, 9, 12, and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over O'Callaghan et al. Patent No. WO 93/11817.

O'Callaghan clearly states that "the interior surface would be most conveniently coated with a more permanent anti-static coating such as a coating or film of plastic material having anti-static properties" and since polyamide has anti-static properties it would have been obvious to modify O'Callaghan invention by coating the interior surface with polyamide in order to reduce the tendency for particles of the drug to be attracted to the surfaces.

Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over O'Callaghan Patent No. WO 93/11817 in view of Kriesel US Patent No. 6,030,363.

O'Callaghan discloses the applicant's invention as claimed with the exception of providing locking means to lock the two members together in assembled condition.

Kriesel discloses a medicament dispenser that does provide locking means. Therefore it would be obvious to modify Callaghan's invention by providing locking means to lock the two members together in assembled condition in order to prevent the two members from becoming loose.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
